

Free enterprise is what this country was built on. This company (XMRadio) is an American company that pays taxes that help support this country. Unlike some companies like the auto industry for example, satellite radio, will remain in the United States and keep their money here. For the limited amount of local programming they DO provide, I believe that the NAB has nothing to worry about. Besides, I pay for this service. I, as an American taxpayer, suggest that the FCC please disregard the NAB's petition 04-160 and concentrate on more pressing issues.
